Dear Mr. Myers, 6/6/75

It is terrible to have to respond to so kind and thoughtfil a letter as yyurs in great haste. But that is compelled by the amount of work I attempt.

At 62 I'm not that far behind you!

I hope you remember your letter:

My problem with the NYTimes is that they do know me and can't abide fact. It is holy water to them.

Have there been times when I could have used a proofreader!

If your experience includes the more effecient presses in the area, I'd like to know because I will soon face the need to reprint one of the earlier books. With little money.

And while it does not say who killed JFK, I've had the most definitive book of all -by far - done for a long time. Money only prevents its appearance.

Again thanks,

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
